

Fall 2019

Boston City Council Candidates
Public Safety Questionnaire

Candidate: Ricardo Arroyo

1. Immigration and Policing

Thousands of people are arrested each year in the City of Boston for minor offenses like driving without a license, drug possession, and disorderly conduct. Data obtained by the ACLU shows these minor arrests disproportionately impact Black and Latinx Bostonians. Each time the Boston Police arrest someone, there is the potential for ICE to be notified — putting our immigrant neighbors at substantially greater risk for detention and deportation. Charges for these minor arrests are often dropped, but there is collateral, and often irreparable, damage.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to limit the number of arrests for minor offenses in Boston? Please list your policy goals related to this issue.

ARROYO: I am an advocate for ending all information sharing and cooperation with ICE and will lead on this issue. I support DA Rachel Rollin's Do Not Prosecute List. I support eliminating the Boston Police Gang Database, which tracks the associations and activities of Boston residents and that 98% of the people on the gang database are Black and Brown people. I support a moratorium on the use of facial surveillance technology until the state legislature passes comprehensive protections for racial justice, due process, civil rights, and civil liberties.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you encourage the police commissioner to exercise greater discretion and stop making arrests for minor offenses?

ARROYO: Yes

The Boston Police Department's (BPD) existing policies allow officers and intelligence analysts to collect and share information about people who are not suspected of criminal activity with the federal government. For example, the Boston Regional Intelligence Center (BRIC) is a unit of the Boston Police Department that gathers, analyzes, and shares intelligence — like the gang database — with federal law enforcement. However, the database disproportionately documents men of color, using broad identification criteria. The BRIC possesses an unknown amount of information about Boston residents, is not subject to public oversight, and has the power to put people at risk of surveillance, police stops, and deportation.¹ Data from the BRIC was recently used to deport at least one Boston Public School student, when a BPD incident report — which contained unsubstantiated allegations that the student was a gang member — was shared with ICE.² The BPD's information collection and sharing policy puts immigrants, people of color, protesters, and journalists at risk when that information is shared with federal agencies under the Trump administration.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to create transparency and oversight of the BRIC? What will you do to address the Boston Police Department's policy of sharing information about people not suspected of criminal activity with the federal government?

ARROYO: I am for ending all information sharing with ICE. I intend to work diligently on ensuring that BPD and their work with BRIC is transparent. I also am an advocate for shuttering the gang database and will advocate for that.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you support ending the gang database?

ARROYO: Yes

2. Surveillance of Muslims

Boston was named a pilot city for a federal "countering violent extremism" (CVE) campaign in 2014. Since then, a number of Boston institutions, including the Boston Police Department, have been involved with programs funded by CVE grants. One such program, the Youth and Police Initiative Plus, focuses on Somali youth who are deemed a potential threat due to the social and economic trauma that they experience as immigrants and refugees. CVE programs across the country have NOT made communities safer, but instead have deterred political participation and access to social services for Muslims.³

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to ensure funding is available to support social services for immigrant communities, and that this funding is not tied to law enforcement?

ARROYO: No response.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you support ending BPD's involvement in any community outreach programs that credit false and stigmatizing theories about predispositions toward violence or "extremism," including Youth and Police Initiative Plus?

ARROYO: Yes

Law enforcement should not investigate people unless officers have reasonable, articulable suspicion of involvement in criminal activity. The FBI does not require a criminal predicate for Joint Terrorism Task Force (JTTF) investigations, which often have no connection to anything ordinary people would recognize as terrorist activity; in fact, current federal policy allows the FBI to investigate anyone based on no suspicion of criminality whatsoever. The problematic relationship between local law enforcement and the Joint Terrorism Task Force has been recognized by San Francisco, CA and Portland, OR. As a result, both cities have formally cut ties with the Joint Terrorism Task Force.^{4/5} BPD collaboration with the FBI, which has historically targeted Muslims for improper surveillance and entrapment operations, puts Muslim Bostonians at risk of federal harassment.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to protect Muslim Bostonians and activists from unwarranted federal harassment and surveillance?

ARROYO: I would seek to have BPD provide the Council with a full report of all federal programs in which they are involved and in which information sharing and surveillance is being conducted on behalf of federal officials. That information could be used to draft legislation that protects the civil liberties of all Bostonians. I would also specifically seek an audit of cases referred to JTTF and if the program is only resulting

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you support efforts to end BPD collaboration with the Joint Terrorism Task Force, as the City of San Francisco has done?

ARROYO: No response.

3. Racial Profiling

According to data from the Boston Police Department, as analyzed and reported by The Boston Globe, 70 percent of the nearly 15,000 individuals that police observed, interrogated, or searched in 2016 were Black. Meanwhile, Black people make up 25 percent of the population in Boston.⁶ Black and Brown people are also punished more harshly than white people for drug offenses. Although people of color in Boston make up less than 28 percent of people convicted of drug possession, they are roughly 55 percent of those convicted of drug distribution and 75 percent of those convicted of mandatory minimum drug offenses.⁷ Similar disparities encouraged the City of Providence to require data collection of any police stops or searches through the Community-Police Relations Safety Act.⁸

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to eliminate racial bias in policing, besides previously proposed plans of hiring more officers of color?

ARROYO: The gang database is currently overwhelmingly comprised of black residents, many never tied to any crime or gang activity. The database leads to stops and searches and other forms of civil right abuses and its shuttering will help this issue as well as more training and strict policies for disciplining officers who are found to have targeted persons of color or have a history of doing so.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you work to make the Boston Police Department conduct an audit of their arrest data, to include racial disparities in arrest rates for drug offenses?

ARROYO: Yes

4. Drug Arrests

According to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, the opioid overdose death rate is 120 times higher for those recently released from incarceration compared to the rest of the adult population.⁹ While the overdose and drug contamination crises have moved some politicians to discuss the importance of harm reduction services and a public health response, our local and statewide laws and budgets still prioritize punishment rather than a public health response to drug use. For over 50 years, the criminalization of drugs and of people who use and sell drugs has failed to curtail drug use and substance use disorder; the policy has also led to the arrest, punishment, and imprisonment of hundreds of thousands of people — a majority of whom are people of color — and limited resources for education, treatment, economic empowerment, housing, and other social services outside the criminal legal system.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what are your policy proposals to increase access to long-term treatment, limit arrests for drugs, and implement evidence-based harm reduction services, such as safe consumption spaces?

ARROYO: I have learned that access to treatment, safe housing, and healthcare greatly improves the success of someone struggling with addiction. I would seek to better fund treatment; one example is increasing the public knowledge and access to Vivitrol. A medicine that truly benefitted and stabilized the vast majority of my clients who both had access to and wanted to use it. In addition, I support safe consumption spaces not only due to evidence of decreased overdose but lowering the number of dangerous needles in communities. I would advocate strongly for evidence based harm reduction services.*

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you support curtailing law enforcement responses to drug use, ending arrests for personal possession and small sales of all drugs, and instead implementing a public health referral response based on human rights?

ARROYO: Yes*

5. Electronic and Digital Privacy

In June, the City of Somerville became the first East Coast city to ban municipal use of facial recognition technology. This technology is replete with racial and gender bias. Private companies are aggressively pushing its use on police departments across Massachusetts, endangering people's civil rights and civil liberties. There are currently no statutory protections in place to guard against abuse or misuse of this flawed and biased surveillance technology.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to ensure Bostonians' privacy rights aren't being invaded by face surveillance technology?

ARROYO: I support a moratorium on the use of face surveillance technology until the state legislature passes comprehensive protections for racial justice, due process, civil rights, and civil liberties. In addition, I support requiring the police department and other city agencies seek City Council approval before acquiring, changing or updating surveillance technologies.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you vote in favor of an ordinance to ban the municipal government from using face surveillance technology, as Somerville, San Francisco, and Oakland have done?

ARROYO: Yes

Cities and counties across the country, including Cambridge and Lawrence, Massachusetts, have enacted policies to require transparency and City Council approval of surveillance technology acquisitions by city agencies.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to ensure transparency and democratic accountability around new surveillance technology acquisitions?

ARROYO: I would seek to require all surveillance technology acquisitions require Boston City Council approval.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you vote in favor of an ordinance to require City Council approval before city agencies use or acquire surveillance technologies?

ARROYO: Yes

6. Plainclothes Policing

Several tactical units of the Boston Police Department patrol in plainclothes. They often drive unmarked vehicles while wearing street clothes. We lack crucial public information about the Youth Violence Strike Force, the Drug Control Unit, or the Anti-Crime units. This missing information includes: number of officers, budget, equipment used, complaints received, stops made, and arrest data. In New York City, plainclothes police officers are involved disproportionately in fatal shootings.¹⁰

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what will you do to ensure transparency and assess the impact of tactical units on community wellbeing?

ARROYO: I would seek all of that data through the powers provided to the Boston City Council. Having that data helps create transparency and inform future decisions such as whether plainclothes policing should be abolished. Without that data providing a full report on the program we cannot have a full accounting of any benefits or the ways in which it burdens our neighborhoods and residents.*

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you support the abolition of plainclothes policing?

ARROYO: No response*

7. Overtime Spending

Within a budget of more than $414 million for FY2020, the Boston Police Department budget allocated over $58 million for overtime.¹¹ Police overtime spending exceeds spending on youth jobs and community centers.¹² Current overtime policies allow for excessive spending, including a mandate that officers testifying in court are paid for a minimum of four hours even if they're in court for less than an hour. Boston Police officers also collect pay for thousands of hours for construction details, while civilians flaggers work those sites in other cities and states.

If elected or reelected to the City Council what will you do to curb excessive overtime spending and invest in community social services?

ARROYO: All city departments should responsibly allocate taxpayer dollars and it's the City Councils job to review the yearly budget and push for more transparency and efficiency regarding overtime costs. As a Public Defender I am most aware of the mandate requiring officers to be paid time and a half to be in Court for a minimum of four hours even if they are present less than four hours and would investigate ways to bring those costs down.*

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you work to impose stricter limitations on police overtime spending and invest cost savings in housing, education, youth jobs, and drug treatment?

ARROYO: Yes*

8. Transparency and Public Accountability

The Boston Police Department has made some progress in terms of opening its data to the public. But currently, arrest data and stop-and-frisk data are not available to the public on an ongoing basis via the city's data portal. These data can be posted online without compromising the privacy of Boston residents. Stop-and-frisk and arrest data are critical to understanding the impact of policing in Boston.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what data will you use to evaluate police performance?

ARROYO: A number of different data points help with evaluation. Crime solve rates, especially violent crime solve rates. Crime data and data relating to increases and decreases in our neighborhoods, data related to community perception of their relationship with BPD are all things I would use to evaluate BPD's performance.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you work to make Boston Police arrest data and stop-and-frisk data, including race information, available to the public in real time?

ARROYO: Yes

9. Community Oversight

While Boston has taken steps to allow for community review of civilian complaints against police officers, in the form of the Community Ombudsman Oversight Panel (CO-OP), the panel has limited power to hold officers accountable. The current CO-OP is made up of a former judge, and a former city employee. In their 2018 report, the members found that only 25 percent of cases that they reviewed were found to be not fair, not thorough, or both.¹³

If elected or reelected to the City Council, what steps will you take to increase accountability and community oversight over policing in our neighborhoods?

ARROYO: No response.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you support replacing the CO-OP with a well-funded, independent, community-based complaint review body with the power to subpoena, investigate, discipline, and fire police officers?

ARROYO: Yes

In response to input from Boston community members, the Boston Police Department is in the process of implementing a limited body-worn camera program. Unfortunately, the program includes a dangerous provision allowing officers to review body camera footage before writing incident reports. Criminal defendants, on the other hand, do not have the same right to view incident footage before giving statements to police.

Please describe the role you think body cameras should play at the Boston Police Department.

ARROYO: No response.

If elected or reelected to the City Council, will you work to change the body-worn camera policy to prohibit officers from viewing footage prior to writing incident reports?

ARROYO: No response.
